

Fragment of an ancient manuscript, likely a papyrus scroll. The text is written in a cursive script, possibly Greek or Latin, and is heavily faded and damaged. The fragment is irregularly shaped, with a jagged right edge. Several lines of text are visible, though many characters are illegible due to fading and wear. There are some red ink markings, including what appears to be a large red initial or symbol on the right side, and smaller red marks scattered throughout. The background is dark and textured.

Handwritten text in a script, likely Tamil, on aged paper. The text is arranged in approximately 15 horizontal lines. The script is dark and somewhat faded, with some characters appearing to be in red ink. The paper is heavily stained and discolored, particularly along the edges and in the center. A large, irregular tear is visible on the right side of the page, where the paper has been torn away, revealing the underlying surface. The overall appearance is that of an old, damaged manuscript or document.
